
Different random matrices: empirical paper values are comparison points, not pass/fail tolerances.
The separate binary128 audit uses N=64; its results are not substituted into these N=256 bars.